Managing for Morale — Effective Management Techniques to Retain Your Staff

Staff retention continues to be a top priority for most health care executives. This panel will engage senior-level managers to discuss best practices in staff retention and take a broader approach by looking across organizational settings. The program will begin with brief opening remarks of approximately 10 minutes by the moderator, followed by 15-minute presentations by each of the three panelists. The program will conclude with a 30-minute Q&A session.
